David Ross Design

The Lily chairs from David Ross Design can provide varied amounts of seating and also encourage informal communal dining. When stacked, the chairs function as a single chair, they can then transform into two separate chairs, and further division provides two Japanese style dining table/ chair sets. The versatile, ply-formed furniture is designed to make the most of available space and to encourage communication through communal dining, resulting in increased happiness and wellbeing. www.davidrossdesign.co.uk

Fusiontables

The Fusiontables range bring state-of-the-art engineering and multidimensionality to home entertainment. The tables shift from pure design object, into roomy dining table or conference table, transformable in seconds into a quality billiard or poker table to accompany after-dinner drinks. Now Fusiontables has launched their new white frame collection, pictured, for the first time. The multiple use table, made in Belgium, will be displayed in the Spiralis specialist office furniture showroom in London. www.fusiontables.com
